Dear Fellow Host2Host Members,

No clichés or cut-and-paste phrases here. We all are challenged right now. We get it. As hosts, we have been keenly impacted. No sugar coating will do. However as a community of people devoted to hospitality, we have shown our ability to meet other challenges and shown our mettle. So I offer this:

Host2Host is alive. As a community of friends, we are all still showing our support for each other in creative and extraordinary ways. While we can't meet in person right now we are working to create virtual avenues to keep us all connected and to serve each other, especially those of us who feel isolated and alone.

More details will be forthcoming about this, so please stay tuned. And remember, should you need some specific help or just to talk, please don't hesitate to reach out to us at info@host2host.org or 971-238-4207.

We are hunkering down, too, but determined to stay connected with you even if it's just to "toe bump" or to hold our virtual hands.

With sincerest and warmest regards,

Alan Colley
President
